Herron's Sins "Grievous, Bald, Vulgar and Crass"—"A Coward in Not Defending His Babes' Mother, or a Monster"-Brooklyn a Town of the Ten Commandments The Rev. Dr. Hillis, pastor of Plymouth

Church, yesterday made this statement in eference to Prof. George D. Herron: "My refusal to meet Mr. Herron at the Get Together Club next Monday night was not based upon his position as a Socialist, his criticisms of the Church or of the Administration. I notice that he says the Church is a practical atheism, and supports all the fundamental immoralities of public life and industry: that President McKinley is 'assassinating the liberties of the Philippines,' and that the most honored members, of society are its parasites. Denying these statements for myself, I concede liberty to another Indeed, as preachers, we welcome criticisms and will pay the cash for them, though not for compliments. If the criticisms are intelligent and well founded they will help. If they are not based upon the facts in the case they will fall to the ground and do no harm. My objection to appearing with Mr Herron, therefore, was not based upon the vagaries of his intellect, or upon the fact that his thinking seems to me crude, superficial and false in its premises, but upon his deeds that represent his will and character.

I do not wish to be unkind, but there are sins so grievous, so baid, vulgar and crase in their persistency, their virulence, that they consume the mantle of charity as a flame the garment. Consider the conceded facts in the case. This man marries young woman, and is the father of four mildren, almost babies; forms a friendship with a young unmarried woman, from whom he accepts money to buy his clothes, hats, shoes and travelling expenses; against his wife's protest goes abroad with this woman friend and her mother for a year; returns to tell his wife that he has ceased to love her, but loves another, and persistently urges his wife to obtain a divorce. When the wife is asked by the Judge if there is any obstacle to their livings together, she replies, No, exception in what and the replies, No, exception in what and the replies, No, exception in the state of a control of the state of ence. It hears no resemblance to the simple religion of Jesus.

"His teachings and gospel are not found even in the Church nor His theory in their pulnits. The Church does not even believe what He taught and believed. Organized Christianity to-day is no fit religion for free men. It was the English pulpit which sustained that Government in one of its blackest acts of throwing its strength upon a weaker nation that they might wrest from it its little gold field. It was the American pulpit that backed up the Government when a confiding people lost their freedom.

"It is not because the people are less religious that they are turning away from church, but because they are becoming more religious. The socialistic movement has come into the world just in time to recover Jesus from Christianity. These, that we call the Gospels have been so changed that they contain things which one didn't know about. They contain accounts of things which Jesus probably did not say or the.

Do you suppose that Jesus would have been put to death if he had gone about healing people and doing good? Would he have been killed if he had done the things that he is said to have done? Why was he put to death Because he would not keep his mouth shut about the ruling classes of his time.

and Come With Him -The Brother's Story.

Two lawyers from Yonkers went to the White Plains Jail yesterday and talked with the Italian couple arrested on Monday on a charge of burying a live baby beneath three feet of earth in a ravine near the village line of Hastings-on-the-Hudson. When the lawyers went away Givrio Buttacavallo, the man who is accused of digging the grave for the infant, declared that he was innocent of the charge. He said the woman who had been rrested with him was his niece, Francesca Spinella, and that she was 18 years old. When asked if he was the father of the child he said hat he had not heard of the child until he and the Spinella girl had been placed under arreat. He said that he had gone to Hastingson-the-Hudson to look for a job. When asked if the girl had gone on the same mission he said she had asked him to take her for a ride on the Yonkers trolley cars. He declared that he did not know where her home was but believed that she lived some where in Yonkers. The girl sat in a cell in the women's prison all day bemoaning her fate and weeping. She said she knew nothing whatever about the baby. When told by an Italian interpreter that she and her companion had been held for the Westchester Grand Jury she refused to eat, saying that it was useless inasmuch as she had been sentenced to die in the electric

TO LIMIT THE ARMY TO 76,000 MEN. Secretary Root Favors the Recommendation

Made by Gen. Hiles. WASHINGTON, April 23. -At a conference with Lieut.-Gen. Miles this afternoon the Secretary of War determined to limit the strength of the reorganized army to about 76,000 men. It will, therefore, not be recruited up to the maximum strength authorized by Congress, which would be about 100,000 men. Secretary Root's decision is practically in line with a recommendation made by Gen. Miles several months ago and renewed by him in a letter to the Secretary of War on April 3. In this letter Gen. Miles recommended that the army be limited to one soldler to every 1,000 of population, namely, 76,000 men.

While this decision has not been announced officially, it was learned this afternoon that such action will be taken within a few days. The details of the plan for organizing the army are to be gone over by Gen. Miles, who has been requested by Secretary Root to prepare a report upon the subject for his consideration as soon as possible.

PUZZLED BY LAWYER'S SUICIDE. Friends Think That Illness Must Have Driven

Ex-Alderman Finck's Nephew Crazy. George H. Finok, a nephew of former Alderman Finck, a prosperous real estate lawyer with an office in the New York Life Building at 346 Broadway, committed suicide in the Grand Union Hotel yesterday by shoot ing himself through the head. Finck had a substantial balance to his credit in bank. and his friends say that his home life was as happy as could be desired, so that the suicide is inexplicable to them. Finck had undergone an operation recently for tuberculosis of the left arm, and a section of the bone had been removed. His friends are inclined to attribute his suicide to this. Finck's will was found in his desk as if he had been reading it over recently. Finck left his home at 127 West 122d street n Monday morning. He lived with his wife and two daughters, 4 and 6 years old. He reached his office at his usual hour. About 4 o'clock he went out teiling ex-Judge Adam E. Schatz of Mount Vernon, with whom he shared the office, that he had an important engagement on Tuesday and would not come down early. He went directly to the Grand Union Hotel and registered as "James Fink, New York"

Union Hotel and registered as "James Fink, New York"

Several times in the course of the evening Finck inquired of the telegraph operator if a message had come for him and when he was told there was none he looked disappointed. He inquired again for a message yesterday morning. About 11:30 o'clock a chambermaid heard the report of a pistol from his room. The hotel detective found him dead on the bed with a bullet hole in his right tempie. In his pocket was found a gold watch studded with diamonds in the back of which was a lock of golden hair, two bankbooks on the Seamen's Savings Bank, and 391. He wore four valuable diamond rings.

Finck was associated with the firm of Holls, Wagner & Burchard at 120 Broadway until about a year ago when he moved up to the seventh floor and later had an office there with Lawyer John I. Kirk. He was once associated also with former Police Magistrate Kudlich, and acted as counsel for the Legal Aid Society.
Judge Schatz said vesterday that Mr. Finck must have killed himself in a fit of temporary insanity. He had known the lawyer for fifteen years and he had never missed a single evening from home for years. When he did not return on Monday night his family searched the hospitals fearing that he might have met with an accident. They were about to ask the police to look for him when his death was reported.
